

Witness the renaissance while rediscovering one of Williamsburg's most popular and lively locations. This special enclave of old and new thrives around the ever-evolving Graham Avenue shopping district. From organic supermarkets to tech-friendly coffee shops, you'll find all you need and so much more... Great eats, vintage stores, casual and sleek nightlife – it's all here.

The recently renovated McCarren Park provides an ideal setting for a lazy afternoon picnic, walking the dog or getting some exercise. From tennis courts, ball fields, and a running track to playgrounds, seemingly endless wide-open spaces, and plenty of shade trees, McCarren Park is just four short blocks from the Graham Avenue L train station, which gets you to Manhattan in minutes.
